

CAMO Symposium 2025

Reaching Patients with Cancer Where They Are - Addressing Disparities in Cancer Care Delivery

Thursday, November 13, 2025

In-person | Fairmont The Queen Elizabeth, Montreal, QC

The CAMO 2025 Symposium will explore the theme Global Oncology and Challenges in Cancer Care, with a particular focus on bidirectional learning—connecting insights from international cancer care with the challenges faced in North American settings. The session will highlight both global and local innovations, emphasizing strategies to improve access and outcomes for underserved populations.

Co-chaired by representatives from CAMO and WINC-ALINC, Dr. Scott Berry, Dr. Stephen Welch and Dr. Christine Brezden-Masley, the symposium will underscore the value of collaboration in addressing systemic disparities in cancer care both at home and around the world.

Why attend?

1. Fresh perspectives on global models that can inform and enhance local cancer care delivery.
2. Expert insights on addressing disparities in access, remote care, and socioeconomic factors.
3. Actionable strategies to improve outcomes for underserved patient populations.
