

Best of Oncology West Conference 2026

Friday, January 23, 2026

Virtual Conference

The Best of Oncology West 2026 Virtual Conference delivers an authoritative review of the most impactful, practice-changing developments in oncology from 2025. Covering the latest evidence across a broad range of tumour sites, this highly anticipated event offers expert-led discussions, in-depth analysis of key data, and insights into emerging trends shaping cancer care.

Chaired by two of Western Canada's leading medical oncologists—Dr. Sharlene Gill and Dr. Daniel Heng—the program will feature a distinguished faculty of experts from across the region. Together, they will explore how recent breakthroughs are redefining standards of care and influencing the future of oncology practice. This virtual conference is your opportunity to stay at the forefront of the evolving oncology landscape and translate the latest research into improved patient outcomes.

Learning Objectives

1. Analyze pivotal clinical trials presented in 2025 across a range of tumour sites, with a focus on their impact on current and future oncology practice.
2. Review the latest evidence-based standards of care for major malignancies, ensuring alignment with current treatment guidelines and best practices.
3. Explore ongoing controversies and evolving perspectives in the management of select cancers, fostering critical discussion and expert insight.
